What of the Crippled Child in Milam County?

Would you like to know? Would you like to know what Milam county is doing in the way of Child Welfare? Would you like to know how Milam County Children have benefited by County and State funds for Child Welfare. If you would, you are invited to an open meeting of the Child Welfare Board and County Health Board to be held on the lawn at the home of Mrs. J. T. Hale, in Rockdale, on May 5, at 3 p. m.

In 1931 the Forty-second Regular Session of the Legislature created the Division of Child Welfare in the Board of Control.

About two years ago Milam County organized a Child Welfare Board.

Much has been done in the state and county in this short time to relieve the suffering of little children and to rehabilitate lives that would be liabilities rather than assets to society without such aid.

May 1 is Child Health Day, and Milam County is producing a number of "Five-Point" children. The five points to be realized are—immunizations against typhoid, diphteria and small pox, defects (if any) corrected, and passing grades in school. Two children, Myra Jean Vaughan and James Krenek, of Belmena school, have already reached these five points, and with others in the county, will be awarded health certificates issued by the State Board of Health.

From the Sale of Easter Seals a small fund was realized, which amounted to $50 as reported up to April 20, and which will supplement the County treasury of Child Welfare.

GEORGE J. MATULA IS BURIED AT MARAK

George J. Matula, 52, died at his home near Curry on Monday, April 25, 1938, at 8 a. m.

Funeral services were held on Friday afternoon at the Catholic church at Marak with Rev. K. Kacer, pastor, delivering the Mass. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery at Marak with the Green Funeral Home in Cameron directing arrangements.

Mr. Matula had been ill at his home here for more than two years. A man of kind disposition, he bore his suffering with patience and his example of citizenship will sustain in lasting memory the impressions of those who know him best.

George J. Matula was a native of Milam county, born 52 years ago he lived his life among the people of this county. For many years he lived in the Marak community. In late years he moved to Cameron and then to Curry north of the city. He is survived by his widow and 5 children.

5 borthers, among them well known Cameron business men survive him. They are: Joseph Matula, grocery store owner; John Matula, marble works owner; Felix Matula, well known Cameron business man; and Fred Matula, also of Cameron, a deputy tax collecter. Another brother, Emil Matula lives in Three Rivers, Texas.

Many attended the funeral Friday at Marak, his old home. Former friends and neighbors came in large numbers to pay their tribute to one they knew well and loved in life.

for Women only

CARDUI is a special medicine for the relief of some of the suffering which results from a woman's weakened condition. It has been found to make monthly periods less disagreeable, and, when its use has been kept up awhile, has helped many poorly nourished women to get more strength from their food. This medicine (pronounced "Card-u-i") has been used and recommended by women for many, many years. Find out whether it will help you by giving it a fair trial. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.

GAS COMPANY FIGHTS POLITICAL RATE MAKING

Federal Judge James C. Wilson sitting in Fort Worth Monday restrained temporarily the cities of Quanah, Memphis and Wellington from enforcing ordinances reducing natural gas rates. United Gas Corporation, which serves the cities, charging that the company had not been given an opportunity to be heard before the reduction was ordered.

This follows closely a federal court temporary injunction against El Paso where the city council had reduced rates without giving the company a hearing. This case was filed by Texas Cities Gas Company, a member of Lone Star Gas System.

A few cities and towns passed rate reduction ordinances or resolutions inviting the Railroad Commissioners, who are running for high state offices, that the commission would take concurrent original jurisdiction with city councils and investigate gas rates free of charge upon invitation. Lone Star Gas System officials deny that the commission has such a legal right.

"As a result of another decision in the Travis County District Court last week denying the Texas Railroad Commission an injunction against Texas Cities and Community Natural Gas Companies, we expect to proceed by every legal means possible to prevent the Railroad Commission from making this Company a political football and putting it to the enormous and unnecessary expense of rate controversies," Roy C. Coffee, general attorney for Lone Star, said. "We will permit the commission acess to our books, records and property over our protest in incorporated cities and towns, as we agreed in open court, until the Commission's jurisdiction is finally settled. Regulation as prescribed by law is not opposed by us, but we will resist any and all illegal aggressions against our gas service for political purposes.

"The state attempted to enjoin the company from trying to prevent the Railroad Commission from exercising original jurisdiction in incorporated cities and towns. We beleve this original jurisdiction is exclusive with the City Council in such towns, and we expect to do everything we can legally to keep the Commission within the law in this matter.

"It is evident that since the Commission has done nothing to make valuations in these towns for seventeen years and has during such time taken the position that they had no original jurisdiction under the law in such cities, the Commission's sudden change in this election year is nothing more than a political move."

Snow White

kill her. But he permits her to escape. She is befriended by the pitying birds and animals and finds refuge with the Seven Dwarfs in their woodland home. Thither comes the wicked Queen in the guise of a Witch. "Snow White eats a bewitched apple given her by her rival, and falls into a death like slumber. So lovely is she that the dwarfs, instead of burying their belived little housekeeper, place her in a coffin of glass and gold by which they keep watch. The tiny chaps have already wreaked vengeance on the Witch, who has fallen to destruction over a precipice. Then same the handsome Prince, who loved "Snow White" when she was only a scullery maid, awakens her with a kiss, and the sweethearts leave together for their castle home.

This is only a sketchy outline of the action in the RKO Radio Picture, which is studded with detail. There are laughs galore, inimitable incidents too many to describe, as well as dramatic thrills, romance and pathos, while over all is the fascinatingly bizarre atmosphere of Fairyland exquisitely developed in three dimensional color photography.

Song hits in "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," include the dwarf's marching song "Hi-Ho;" their washing song; the songs by Snow White, "Some Day My Prince Will Come," "With a Smile and a Song," "Whistle While You Work" and The Wishing Well Song," and the Price's song, "One Song." The melody of "Some Day My Prince Will Come" is the picture's theme music.

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" had its world premiere in Los Angeles during last Christmas week to a stupendous public acclaim.

New Deal to Send Teacher to City For Employe School

New Deal Spending took a funny turn here last week when the Chamber of Commerce acted favorably upon a proposed school to teach "those now employed how to hold their jobs." The cost of the instructor is to be paid by the government.

Those who enter the school will pay a small fee of perhaps $1.25. The advantage of the school would be to teach clerks and other employes how to render better service. A course on window dressing and salesmanship is included in the course.

The Committee on Education will have charge of the school.

A school for WPA foremen is also under advisement and has been refered to the committee on Civic Improvements.

Railroad Paper Praises Billy Clark For Efficiency

The following was taken from the "Along The Line," a paper published by the Southern Pacific Railway, in Houston, and will be of much interest to Cameron people:

"A salute to Willie I. Clark, Jr., of the division engineer's staff. An engineer by profession, in which field his experience has been wide and varied; he is also a competent all around office man, having experience in stenography and general office work prior to taking up engineering. He can "run a line," or "take a letter" with equal ease and proficiency. Art is his hobby and his charcoal drawings would do credit to a professional. Like Homer Peel, of base ball fame, Willie is known as the "pride of Cameron" and is a handsome young bachelor, at least at this writing."

Mrs. Alex Triggs has returned from Houston where she visited for a few days and while there was the guest of her friend, Mrs. E. Fieber, who has visited a number of times in Cameron.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bigbee and two children, Miss Beryle and Billie Bigbee of Huntsville, spent the week end here with his mother, Mrs. Lottie Bigbee.

MEMORIAL TO MRS. E. J. McCALL

Year by year the death of the flowers and the falling leaves of Autumn impress us with the fact that the days of man are as grass; as a flower of the field, so he flourisheth, for the wind passeth over it and it is gone, and the place thereof shall know it no more. The Reaper, whose name is Death, is always lurking in our midst, and ever an anon he plucks one of our most valued and dearly loved and transplants her into "The Land of Memory." Oh! the sweet land of memory to those who stay behind, "for how can they be dead when they live in our momory?"

This unrelenting Reaper has recently entered the McCall home in Yarrellton and removed the beloved wife and mother and these lines are written as a loving memorial of her. In all her associations she will be missed for few in passing leave so rich a heritage.

She was a true daughter of the South. She was born in Tupelo, Mississippi on February 25, 1870. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Freeman, who brought their family to live in Texas in 1880. Their daughter, Miss Bessie Freeman, taught school in Milam County. She married E. J. McCall in 1892 and their home has been a center of hospitality since it was established. They resided in Cameron for several years and Mrs. McCall made a host of friends here. The family have resided in Yarrellton for several years. Mrs. McCall is survived by her husband and four daughters; Mrs. J. C. Perkins, Marion, Jessie, Mrs. E. D. George, one sister, Mrs. Annie F. Taylor of Laredo, and one brother, T. H. Freeman of Rosebud. She died April 19, 1938. Her funeral was held in the Baptist church in Yarrellton by Rev. O. C. Acrey on Thursday afternoon. Many and beautiful floral tributes were sent. Interment was in North Elm Cemetery.

Messrs. John Watson, Ernest Vogelsang, Terry Wiley, Herbert Colburn, James Mann and Clarence Colburn, were pall bearers.

Mrs. McCall was a member of the Christian church. She was a true and steadfast friend, an ideal wife and mother. Her standards were high and noble.

"She is not dead—Life has but set her free,
She has but passed beyond where we can see.
Life never lost for her its lovely look,
She kept her interest in its thrilling book;
To her death came no conqueror in the end,
She merely smiled to greet another friend."

—Contributed.

Annual Memorial Services for those departed during the past year, were held at Val Verde cemetery Saturday, April 23rd. Those attending from Cameron were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bonds, Judge and Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp and Mrs. Graham Gillis.

All producers will be mailed notices stating their acreage quotas as soon as the quotas are received in the County Agent's office, says County Agent George Banzhaf.

CARDUI

In this modern time something wonderfully worth while can be done for practically every woman who suffers from functional pains of menstruation. Certain cases can be relieved by taking Cardui. Others may need a physician's treatment.

Cardui has two widely demonstrated uses: (1) To ease the immediate pain and nervousness of the monthly period; and (2) to aid in building up the whole system by helping women to get more strength from their food.

State Will Spend $22,000 to Beautify Minerva Highway

The Herald has been told on good authority that the State Highway Department will go ahead and spend $22,000 on beautification of the Cameron to Minerva highway.

It was reported at first the appropriation would be withdrawn because one property owner had refused to sign a contract prohibiting signs along the highway. This objection has been overlooked, it was said.

Circulation, news carriage and integrity gives The Herald the lead.
